All college faculty members and education students are invited to attend these meetings.

The first seminar of the fall semester was held on Thursday, September 18. Following the general orientation talk by Dr. Leon F. Miller, the student teachers, faculty members and other guests adjourned for a coffee hour with the secondary supervisors and the student teachers acting as hosts.

The next seminar to be held October 2 is to be a group discussion of the problems in teaching. The primary student teachers are to meet with Miss Chloe Millikan in the kindergarten room, the intermediate student teachers are to meet with Miss Mary Keith in the sixth grade room and the secondary student teachers are to meet with Mr. H. Robert Andrews Is Editor-in-Chief Of College Newspaper

This year's Editor-in-Chief of the Northwest Missourian will be Robert Andrews, a member of the senior class.

Robert has an English major and a speech minor. He first attended school at Northwest Missouri State College during the spring and summer of 1946.

For the past four years Robert has gained classroom experience by teaching English and physical education in the junior high classes in Lorimer, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Andrews of Clearmont are his parents.

Former Instructors Are Honor Guests

Mr. E. A. Davis, Miss Margaret Franken, and Miss Katherine Franken, teachers who resigned during 1952, were honored by the faculty of Northwest Missouri State College at a dinner given July 17, at 6:30 p. m., at the Maryville Country Club.

Misses Margaret and Katherine Franken were presented by Mr. H. T. Phillips, and Mr. E. A. Davis was presented by Mr. Ryland H. Milner.

An address "In Appreciation" was given by President J. W. Jones.

Each of the three teachers had given many years of service to Northwest Missouri State College. Miss Katherine Franken, member of the education department, taught here for thirty years. Miss Margaret Franken, former supervisor of mathematics at Horace Mann, came to this college one year after her sister, Mr. E. A. Davis, a member of the physical education department, came here twenty-five years ago.

Victims of Dormitory Fire Return to School

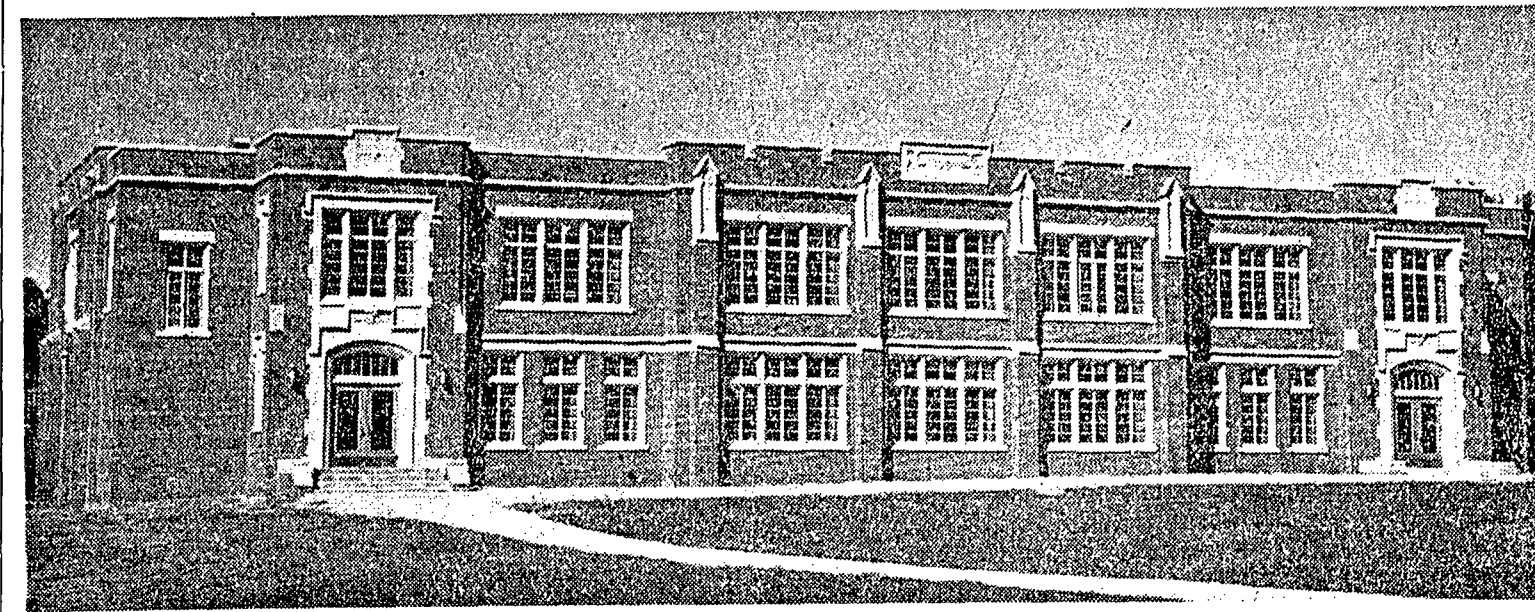

Enrollment records show that with the return of Roberta Steel and Susan King the four girls who were seriously burned in the Residence Hall fire of April 28, 1951, are now students on the campus.

Mallard Maune, a junior majoring in physical education, from St. Joseph, returned to the campus for the fall quarter of 1951. Maxine DeShon, a junior with a music major from Stewartville, returned for the winter quarter of 1951.

Susan King, a senior with an elementary education major, also from St. Joseph, attended Missouri University last year but is enrolled again at Northwest Missouri State College this semester. Roberta Steel, a sophomore from St. Joseph who is working for a sixty hour degree, returned to the campus this fall.

Union Building Is Center For College Activities

This Is It! On October 1st—Not October 32nd!

To a sense of the responsibility of each individual student to achieve mature conduct, to an opportunity in pleasant surroundings to foster friendships—old and new, to a chance to live an abundant life with poise, confidence, and respect for the rights and beliefs of others, to a place where one can live enjoyably with others with an awareness of the importance of personal appearance, honesty, integrity, and loyalty to the college, to the youth that are here now and to the youth that will be here, The Union is dedicated as a home on this campus for gracious living.

President Jones and Ministerial Alliance Head First Assembly

Correlating his welcoming address with the College "Alma Mater," President J. W. Jones gave the student body a carefully drawn plan of the aims and purposes of the College, both as an institution of academic progress and as a center of social training, at the opening assembly program, September 17.

Dr. Jones outlined in his welcome the opportunities which are afforded the students of the College, and listed the duties and obligations which all students are expected to assume. The end result of this program, according to Dr. Jones, will be the bequeathing of a much better College to those students who are to come after the present group.

The Reverend Monk Bryan of the Methodist Church delivered the opening address of the program in which he extended on behalf of the Maryville Ministerial Alliance an invitation to the students of the College to avail themselves of the opportunities of the Maryville churches.

Father R. W. Garlicks of St. Paul's Episcopal Church spoke briefly on the new translation of the Bible into modern language, stressing the importance of this new publication in the history of religion.

Other members of the Ministerial Alliance introduced to the student body were, as follows: Reverend G. Howard Linton, First Baptist Church; Reverend Charles Jennings Church of the Nazarene; Reverend Franklin Kohl, First Christian Church; Reverend David Irwin, Assembly of God; Father Isadore Diebold, St. Mary's Catholic Church; Father R. E. Graham, St. Patrick's Catholic Church; and Reverend Harold Miller, assistant pastor of the Methodist Church.

Thank You and Happy Birthday!

Today, October 1, 1952, I am glad to have the privilege of expressing the appreciation of the entire student body for the Union Building for which Dr. J. W. Jones, our president, has worked so hard.

In the fall of 1950, Max Kinney, then president of the Student Government Association, unearthed the first shovel of dirt for the construction of the new building.

Throughout both years, students eagerly watched the development of the structure into a thing of beauty.

I cannot do anything towards the completion of the Union Building, but today I thank President Jones, and since it is his birthday, I wish him a very happy one!

Herschel L. Neil
President, Student Senate

Meditations

I am the Union Building.
I have been conceived in love
And consecrated to the mission
Of bringing warmth and gladness
To hosts of aspiring hearts.

I think that I am not too proud;
I know that my foundation's clay,
And that my enclosure's brick.
My spirit, though, is more than these.
My chapel, my halls, my rooms
Invite to noble heights.

I like to hold in sculptured arms
And to inspire on cushioned lap
The youths who seek an abundant life.
I enjoy the kindly step and cultured voice
That make me an animated thing.
Come, drink deep and long from springs
Of beauty flowing with eternal goodness.

Bell Mall Appearance Changes With Construction of Platform

By OPAL CARSON

Students returning to the campus this fall have undoubtedly noticed a difference in the appearance of Bell Mall, the structure that stands to the east of the long walk. During the summer season a concrete and brick platform, octagonal in shape, has been constructed about the base of the tower. At intervals along the edge of this platform five benches have been arranged.

This improvement was made possible by the contributions of the graduation classes of the years between 1948 and 1952. These classes are also responsible for the addition of the benches, and upon these will be placed the dates of the various classes represented in this project.

This bell, a gift of the class of '48, was first rung on the campus to announce the opening of the examination period of the summer quarter in 1948. Formal presentation had been made earlier in a ceremony in which Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the College, accepted the bell and tower from Bruce Mitchell, chairman of the gift committee.

The bell is rung to announce any event of moment in the life of the College. It is rung only by a member of the senior class (or an appointed deputy) and is heard only on the following occasions:

To announce victories of the football team.

To announce unusual assemblies such as high school Senior Day or the Teachers' Association first assembly.

To announce Walk-out Day.

To announce senior activities.

To announce alumni reunions.

To be tolled upon the death of any member of the college community.

To announce other events deemed important by the senior class and/or the administration.

Since its installation, Bell Mall has become a part of the college tradition.

Bell Mall Has New Concrete Platform

Monday Is Annual Student Walkout Day

The ringing of the campus bell on Monday morning was the announcement to the freshmen that the annual Walkout Day had arrived.

The freshmen assembled before the Administration Building, and after a brief orientation in kneeling and buttoning, began the long parade to downtown Maryville.

Court with its assorted assessments of shampoos, leg and hair taping, kisses and haircuts was held on the courthouse steps. The students returned to the campus for the sport of pond duckings, jousting matches, and flour grenade battles.

After a picnic lunch on the campus, the students, freshmen and upper classmen, attended a movie. The day's festivities were climaxed by a dance in the Union building.

Campus Provides New Place Of Beauty For Students This Fall

Social Growth As Well As Academic Will Be Included in Program for Student Development

By ROBERT ANDREWS

With the opening of the fall semester, the new Union Building on the campus has become the focal point for a majority of all college activities. The building, a part of the $700,000 college building program, is aimed primarily at the stimulation of the student's social growth in conjunction with his continued academic growth.

When asked how many plans were drawn before the final plans were accepted, President Jones said he did not recall but stated there were several as it was necessary to plan a building which could be built within the funds available.

Match State Appropriation

Acting under the authority granted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri, the Board of Regents borrowed the necessary funds to match a state appropriation for the construction program. Provisions were made for the borrowed money to be repaid from the earnings of the projects constructed under the act.

The Board of Regents of the College on September 19, 1949, authorized the establishment of a Union fee of one dollar. In 1949, the first Student Union Committee was appointed, and the Student Senate selected Robert Guthland to head the committee.

President Jones Announces Plans. At the Maryville-Warrensburg football game on November 11, 1949, President J. W. Jones announced publicly the intention of the Board of Regents to build a Union Building, a Men's Hall, and an annex to Residence Hall. Earlier that day the Board had authorized the President to proceed under the provisions of the act of the General Assembly and to work toward the construction of these new campus additions.

Architects Walter Boschen of St. Joseph and Emil O. Bayerl of Kansas City were commissioned to draw the plans for the three new structures. On October 10, 1950, the bonds were sold and the construction contract let.

Max Kinney Breaks Sod. Max Kinney, student body president, broke the sod at the site of the Union Building following the assembly program on November 1, 1950. Kinney, on behalf of the student body, thanked President J. W. Jones and the Board of Regents for their efforts in making the new building possible.

President Jones appointed a committee of faculty members and students to define what was to be done in the new building. The committee consisted of Dr. W. A. Brandenburg, dean of faculty; R. P. Foster, registrar; Lon Wilson, dean of men; W. T. Garrett, biology department; Martha Locke, dean of women; Dr. June Cozine, home economics department; Rachel Taul, present counselor of students; Max Kinney, student body president; Richard Gordon; and Phyllis Hansen.

Thomas Constructs Building. The buildings were constructed by the Thomas Construction Company of St. Joseph and Maryville. The Union Building equipped for use was completed at a total cost of $435,000; the Men's Hall at $130,000 and the annex to Residence Hall at $135,000.

The annex and the men's hall were accepted by the Board of Regents on January 1, 1952, and the Union Building was accepted on July 11, 1952.

Members of the Board of Regents at the time the plans were made were M. E. Ford, Maryville, president; R. L. Douglas, St. Joseph, vice-president; J. V. Gaddy, St. Joseph; A. B. Kammerer, Chillicothe; Joe M. Roberts, Gallatin; Alan F. Wherritt, Liberty; and Herbert Wheeler, ex-officio, State Commissioner of Education. Mr. Roberts resigned after work began on the program and was replaced on the Board by W. M. Harrison of Gallatin.

This Is Ours!

Probably at no other time since this College was founded in 1905 has such a tremendous step been taken to further the social opportunities of the individual as that which was made when the students' Union Building was conceived and constructed.

Never before on this campus has there been a place so suited to the needs of the students, so planned for their use and enjoyment, so wholly their own. Here they may feel free to entertain their friends for an hour or for an evening. They can be assured that in this building they can find a suitable setting for any of the various social events in which they will wish to participate during the school year.

But lest I should seem to imply that the Union Building is of value only to organizations—to groups already united or friendships already formed—let me say further that from the point of view of the student who is new here, the student who has only begun to become acquainted with others, this building is a source of invaluable opportunities. If the new student wishes informal contacts, they may be made here. Should he wish social experiences of a more formal nature, they, too, are to be provided from time to time. One feels that what ever the social needs that a student might feel, he might expect to find satisfaction here.

Then, too, there is this to be considered. This in our building. If it does not, perchance, offer what we want, then we are responsible for providing that which will alter the situation. We can make the Union what we want it to be.

—Opal Carson

The Creed

The facilities of the Student Union, the Quadrangle, and Residence Hall are provided to give the students of this campus a home in which gracious living is suggested by the surroundings and encouraged through a planned program. These facilities constitute a laboratory for social growth and personal development of the student body. A sense of responsibility by the individual student for mature conduct and a personal sense of responsibility for his part in achieving maturity in group conduct are ends to be sought.

It is difficult to define mature conduct and to detail a code of behavior which will apply in these facilities of the College, and we believe that it is unnecessary to do so if the students and faculty are guided by the concept that Residence Hall, the Quadrangle, and the Student Union together constitute a home for the student body—other things to be sure, but a home where behavior is in the best standards of behavior in the student's parental home.

—from Know the Student Union

Let's Keep It That Way

The new Union Building, as we all know, is the greatest thing that has happened on this campus in many years. The entire building, with its spacious lounge, reading room, dining hall, and the Bearcat Den, is intended for our use whenever and however we wish.

The best way to have it in good condition when we want it for something special is not to repair it after it has been run down, but to keep it up now. Remember, a stitch in time saves nine. The Union is in the best condition now. Let's keep it that way!

—Burl Walter

A lost sense of values makes for a confused traveler on the behavior road just as a lost sense of direction makes for a confused traveler on the high sea or in the jungle.

Registration Process Sends College Year Off With Good Start

Registration for the fall semester was conducted in the main reading room of the college library, Wednesday, September 10. Upperclassmen registered in the morning and the freshmen registered in the afternoon.

Students first found their advisers, agreed upon the courses, and then suffered writers' cramps from filling out the numerous cards and booklets. Next came the weary procedure of waiting in line to pay the necessary fees. Patience, time, and money were required to survive the winding line.

Traditional green beanies were sold to freshmen to complete their registration. Fortunately were those who found beanies that were not too small or too large. M Club members were uttering threats concerning the approaching Walkout Day as the freshmen became conspicuous among the student body.

Dancing in the Bearcat Den of the Student Union Building climaxed the exhausting day. Registration Day for the fall of 1952 became a more pleasant memory as new and old friends relaxed in a social atmosphere.

Gladys Cooper Traves, who was graduated from the College in 1933, is now living in Denver, Colorado, with her husband. They recently became the parents of a son, Frederick.

Looking to See What They've Caught

Examining their nets to see which of the many types of insects that they have captured are four of the boys enrolled in entomology. They are, reading from left to right, Calvin Goeders, John Jensen, Dan M. Barger, and Zane Dodge. Looking on, ready to help if needed, is the instructor, Mr. W. T. Garrett. A fifth member of the class not shown is Fred Hannah.

Biology Department Is Offering New Class; Insects Are Studied

By MELVA HEITS

To see several boys running around slashing the air with their air nets, dragging water with their water nets, or thrashing bushes with their beating nets is not an uncommon sight on the campus this year. It is all being done for those little insects which make the class of entomology possible.

Entomology, the study of insects, is being offered here for the first time. This course will enrich greatly the offerings of the biology department and will be of value to the agriculture department also. Too, students who are not in either of these fields would find the class interesting since we live in a rural community.

Study Structure

As of now, the class is engaged in collecting specimens, of which they will study the physiological structure and name later in the semester. Along with mounting and preserving the insects, they will study the economic phase of entomology. The agriculture department is most interested in this part of the course since it is concerned with the control of insects.

Some new equipment has been purchased for this class. Among the most interesting are the pinning blocks, to which the specimen are pinned for study under the microscope; spreading boards, which are used to fix the specimen in the position desired for mounting; relaxing jars, in which specimens are placed to keep them from becoming brittle; and last but not least, the thing that stamps the collector, the nets.

Use Manuals, Too

The textbook that is being used in this course is A Textbook of Entomology by Herbert A. Ross. The students are also using a laboratory manual along with the course and have reference to several other books.

Many people have made a hobby of collecting certain species of insects and through it have brought to attention many heretofore unknown kinds. There is such a large number of them, over nine hundred thousand according to Herbert A. Ross, that one has quite a chance of discovering some new type.

Staff Begins Work On College Yearbook

Work on the 1953 Tower has begun. The staff is composed of the following: Harley Hackett, editor; Barbara Beaver, art editor; Mildred Maxon, business manager.

NOTE

Now that Residence Hall is livable again, (get that, girls!), Mr. Johnson wishes to remind that there are pictures available at the library. These pictures, suitable for wall-hanging may be checked out from the library for the semester, and are worth everyone's investigation.

They're Talking About

The new Student Union Building... seems that the Bearcat Den is making the biggest hit... the change to the semester system... everyone glad that finals will come only twice a year... the numerous green beanies dotting the campus... Kangaroo Court... freshmen learn all about it from the M Club.

The course in entomology... little men with big nets... the Faculty reception... big question... concerning behind the scenes acquiring of refreshments... nuts to be specific.

The game with M U... One will never forget that night... what happened to the after-game dance... the pep rally on Friday night... the victory over Fort Hays... any connection?

The absence of Marlene Dietrich's latest record... Pat McClaren's trying to stretch a two hour English course... Opal Carson turning poet... Dr. Grube's slight limp... John Lee Thompson making the Tower staff... "Willie" and Freshman Orientation... Nobody going Pogo.

Sig Taus crashing the Independents' party for the freshman and non-Greeks... Homecoming preparations getting under way... every organization out to win over every other organization... Vernon "Sonny" Asmus as student Homecoming chairman... will need and deserve cooperation.

Hectic days at the dorm... Pat "fly-killer" McClaren wielding her trusty Spiral... the burglar system on the back doors of the dorm... the novel radio in Room 252... always, thought "human dynamo" just an expression... some seem to take it seriously.

Students in business law finally finding out how Dr. Surrey really grades exams... Bob Kariger's report on the Sig Taus... Phi Sigs' frat house project... someone actually stripping a cigarette.

Absence of some familiar faces this fall... Uncle Sam... past... present... future... reports do not indicate any similarity to an English course... list of newlyweds would be long... the sparkler on the left hand of Jean Linnemann... Duane Richardson... lucky guy... Harry Yungschlager and Betty Curry.

Everyone getting into the swing of things... onto transfer from Tarkio... Lois Jean Kemper... the long line at the cafeteria... Mary Jane Peck and Betty Crider... authorities on drippy faucets... the steam bath Room 124 of the Ad building received.

ALUMNI NOTES

Dr. Henry A. Turner, assistant professor of political science at the University of California, Santa Barbara, has been awarded a Ford Foundation fellowship from the Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education. The fellowships provide the equivalent of an educator's salary, plus travel expenses and costs which may be greater than living at home. Dr. Turner was graduated from the College in 1939.

Donald S. Russell, who was graduated from the College in 1930, is now an instructor in the Junior College of Ventura, California. He is teaching sociology, psychology, and education.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Hartman announce the marriage of their daughter, Jane Francis, to Mr. George Silver on July 28 in Trenton, New Jersey. Mr. Silver was graduated from the College in 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Mock are parents of a baby boy named Frederick Wesley.

Louise Miller, the former Louise Bauer, has received her Master's Degree in psychology from Occidental College in Los Angeles. She has been psychologist for the elementary district at Santa Paula, California. Mrs. Miller received a B. S. degree from the College in 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hamilton of Chicago were summer visitors to the campus. Mrs. Hamilton is the former Dorothy Dow of this College. Mr. Hamilton was a member of the football team of 1925.

Lt. Doris D. Polk was recently sworn in as a second lieutenant in the Regular Army in a ceremony in the office of Lt. Col. Ruby E. Herman, Commanding Officer of the WAC Training Center in Fort Lee, Virginia. Lt. Polk was graduated from the College in 1947. Before entering the service she taught physical education in Waterloo, Iowa.

William R. Bills is now manager of an Equitable Life Assurance Society unit in San Francisco. He took over his present duties in 1947. By the end of 1951 his organization ranked ninth among the Society's unit leaders in production. Mr. Bills was graduated from the College in 1937.

The Stroller

What girl said, "If I make the Stroller this time, I'm going to tell my folks there are two Joyce Osburns on the campus."

Memo to Bob Darby: Don't ask girls if they've lost their green beanies. The last one was an oh-so sophisticated sophomore.

Overheard in the Bearcat's Den: "Do you have to wear 'Sunday' clothes? For me, that's shorts and no shoes."

How about it? Seems the men on the campus are already calling the new Union Building "This Is the House That Jack Built."

Carolyn Butt really should buy a new record o' Teresa Brewer's "Gonna Get Along without You Now." The platter in the Den is getting mighty, mighty thin.

Opal Carson's comment on the number of wineries in France as compared to the number of bakeries: "Man does not live by bread alone."

And to think, there was not a thing Harry Osborne could tell about his hometown. Just wait until the Chamber of Commerce of Tacoma catches him during the Christmas holidays.

And long queues in the library need not be investigated. They are just students waiting to read the review of Tallulah's book.

Lots of rumors about the orchestra for the Homecoming dance. Does anyone know? And is he talking?

Harley Hackett must be contemplating a switch to the Home Economics department. Of late he has been seen trying to develop new dish-drying techniques.

Larry Belt is the reason for all those sighs from the freshman girls. Reason enough, the Stroller thinks. But what about the rest of the bachelors on the campus? Don't they rate?

John Lee Thompson must be the busiest freshman on the campus. He is on the staff of the Northwest Missourian, the Tower, a member of Writers' Club, a cheerleader, plus some music. What does he do for spare time?

The Stroller would like to know Mrs. Hochenauer's answer when in the course of a discussion of the regulations of Residence Hall, a freshman girl asked, "What happens when you have a flat tire? A real flat tire?"

Congratulations to the Tri Sigs on winning the scholarship award. That's a record to be proud of.

When the fifteenth person in a class of fifteen volunteers for an assignment, is it volunteering or being drafted?

The Stroller is in favor of... a short size Chesterfield for between class breaks... more pimiento cheese sandwiches at the Snack Bar... a coffee pipeline to Residence Hall... at least one "snap course" in each department.

Don't forget the Sadie Hawkins Day dance, October 3. The Stroller will be there!

George MacLellan Accompanies An Expedition to Afghanistan

By MARYLYN LAMAR

To go adventuring and exploring into the heart of far away, mountain-surrounded Afghanistan is the experience of George W. MacLellan, NWMSC senior.

George was quarter master and field mammalogist for the Second Afghanistan Expedition, sent out by the American Museum of Natural History in New York. He had had some background for his work by serving with the marines in the Pacific during the war. A year of preparation preceded the journey, which took place from June, 1949, to April, 1950.

George's duties ranged from planning the expedition and supervising the buying of supplies, which included two specially built trucks with 15 gear shifts, to bringing back mammals to the museum for observation.

Studied Persian Language

Twenty-two thousand miles were traveled during the trip by the three women and six men who made up the party. George studied some Persian while going over on the ship, but interpreters were secured in Afghanistan because of the different dialects. This expedition was the first to do any large scale excavations or surveys in this part of Afghanistan.

George, a native of New York, was an industrial arts teacher and coach in New York City when he was asked to assist by a friend who headed the party. The purposes, George stated, were to search for prehistoric and historic remains of early civilizations and to link together pottery sequences which have been discovered in parts of Baluchistan and Pakistan.

Among other findings the party brought back some cave man tools, possibly dating back to 5,000 B.C. A bird fossil was also found which perhaps goes back to the same era.

Most Native Friendly

Most of the people with whom the group was associated were friendly to the United States,

George reported, except in the area near the Russian border. Afghanistan is surrounded by mountains, those in the north being part of the Himalayan range. Afghanistan touches parts of Russia, Iran, Arabia, Tibet, India, and Pakistan.

It is the custom there for men to wear mascara on eyes and eyelids for beauty instead of the women. The women, however, wear much jewelry, even two rings on each finger and toe and in the nose. There is still a sort of feudal system in Afghanistan. The farmers are seldom able to raise more than just enough on which to live.

Living Conditions Difficult

In the cities there is running water, radio, and in three of them electricity, also, but few medical facilities anywhere. George found that outside the cities there were virtually no modern conveniences. In Afghanistan, which is a little bigger than Missouri, one-third of the country is desert, one-third mountains, and one-third fertile land.

Living on two cases of pineapples and rice, eggs, and water for three meals every day for four weeks when they ran out of food before they were finished, was one of the numerous difficulties the party encountered. Since all the water was polluted, every bit used had to be boiled.

They had trouble trying to log because of a three day sand storm that let out the use of trucks. It rained for 14 days. It took group two days of crossing irrigation ditches to reach even a track which could be used as a road. George remarked that they were shot several times because two tribes, Afghanistan and Pakistan were war around them.

In the future George may yield to the call of adventure accompany another expedition which, in about three years, go exploring somewhere in

Sigma Sigma Sigma Captures Coveted Scholarship Cup

Tri Sigs Retain Possession Of Panhellenic Scholarship Cup

Tri Sigma won the scholarship cup for the fourth time in five years. The cup was presented to Maxine DeShon, vice-president by President J. W. Jones last week in the first assembly of the year.

The three sororities, in order to encourage and recognize scholastic attainments, provide a cup known as the Panhellenic Scholarship Cup, to be presented each year to the sorority having the highest scholastic standing.

When a sorority wins the cup three times, it becomes automatically a permanent possession of that sorority, and a new cup shall be offered.

The officers this year are president, Mary Beth Marsh; vice president, Maxine DeShon; secretary, Marilyn Hartell; treasurer, Pat McClaren; corresponding secretary, Diane Clements; keeper of grades, Mary Bauman; sponsor, Dr. June Cozine.

Don't Read This!

By BOB KARIGER
As the doors of knowledge opened wide, many students rushed in excitedly to begin another exciting year. Of course, the Sig Taus have been saddened by the loss of their leader, Melvin (Gus) Clothier, who is now lending his genial services to an organization which Uncle Sam thinks that Gus might help.

By the way, his address is: Pvt. Melvin Clothier, U. S. 55276161, Co. D, 6th Quarter-Master Battalion OCR, 6th Armored Division, Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. To fill the shoes vacated by Gus is hard-working and capable Wayne Boydston.

Martin Heads Skit
At the first meeting, it was the duty of Wayne to appoint the following committees for Homecoming. Chairman of the skit committee is Herschel Martin, who will be assisted by Don Corbin and George Kling. "Steady Oil Can" Ollerman, chairman of the float committee, as usual, will again demonstrate his talents by presenting another masterpiece. George Haws and Rex "Cheerleader" Plummer will also lend their sharp minds.

Heading the house decorations are co-chairmen Stan Ogden and Don Norton, assisted by John Garner, Phil Larkin and Don Palmer. "Wild Bill" Corden has swung into the saddle as chairman of the parade committee. Riding on his flanks will be Tommy "Shine" Carver and John Wood.

Asmus Is Pledge Master
The Taus believe in working a good man who has shown his abilities in the previous years. This man is none other than V. C. Asmus, who by acclamation was elected pledge master. V. C. also was appointed chairman of Homecoming by the Homecoming Committee.

The gala event of Homecoming will serve a dual purpose to the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity this year. Let it be known that this event will be climaxed by the celebrating of the fraternity's Silver Anniversary. (Information for freshmen: Silver Anniversary is the 25th anniversary.)

Remember, Taus, your new location for congregating is the Lower Lake Room of the new Student Union Building.

Balover Will Preside Over Barkatzke Group
Dean Balover will guide the Barkatzke through this year of activity. He was chosen president at a meeting of the group September 18, in the Student Union. Other officers for the coming year are Marela Dick, vice president; Mildred Maxon, secretary; Alvis Murrell, treasurer.

Also elected at the meeting was a student committee comprised of Roberta Steele, chairman, Charlene Kime, and Mary Ellen Daniels.

Representing the Barkatzke in the Homecoming Committee will be Peggy Carstensen.

Basement of Hall Houses Sororities

Residence Hall is housing the three sorority rooms in the basement. These rooms, when completed, will serve as a lounge and as a meeting place for the actives of the sororities.

The room of Sigma Sigma Sigma's hunter green with a white ceiling, located on the southwest corner of the south wing. Covering the west wall are pull draperies of chintz with purple violets, the sorority flower, on a white background. All exposed wood is finished in blond as well as the furniture which is Modern design. Study facilities are also set up.

Mary Beth Marsh, president of Tri Sigma, says the alumnae have helped them to carry on with the project. She adds that Thursday September 25, is the day they hope to open the room for use. Pledges will meet in the Lakeview room of the Student Union.

The room with white walls and a red ceiling belongs to Delta Sigma Epsilon. This room located on the north corner of the south wing will be decorated in green, red, and yellow.

President, Barbara Hudson, announced that this would be a project for all members to work on through the year. Alpha Sigma Alpha's room is coco brown and yellow located on the west front. Coco brown draperies are being made by the alumnae chapter. Jean Long, president of the Alpha Sigs, says the room is furnished in Early American yellow wicker with slip covers. Like the others, the pledges will meet at the Student Union.

ACE Discusses Special Plans For Anniversary

The first meeting of the Association of Childhood Education was held September 22 with Mardy Ingles presiding.

Business included a discussion of plans for Homecoming with Audrey Bentall in charge of the skit and Mae Lewis as chairman of the float committee. It was decided that the ACE would sponsor an exhibit of books and materials for primary teachers on October 10 when the teachers' meeting will be held here.

Special plans are being made for the annual ACE luncheon to be held October 30. This is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ACE Chapter on this campus, and also the twenty-fifth year of having Miss Chloe Milliken as the sponsor. The active chapter will be assisted by the local alumnae chapter.

After the business meeting, old members and prospective members were introduced, and Miss Milliken gave a short talk on what it means to become a member of ACE. Later Joyce Baker, social chairman, entertained the group with games group singing and refreshments.

Fourth Floor Jumps With 35 Music Majors

The fourth floor of the Administration Building is jumping according to Mr. Smay, head of the music department. This year there are thirty-five music majors, along with many volunteer musicians in the marching band and Tower Choir.

Even though interest in musical activities is much stronger this year than last Mr. Smay would appreciate the help of anyone who would be interested in marching band. Since there is only one twirler in band all twirlers would be especially welcome.

Colhecon Has Annual Officer Installation

Colhecon held its first meeting of the year Monday evening, September 15, at the Home Management House.

New officers were installed. They include President, Rosetta Reed; vice-president, Lucille Steinhauer; secretary, Bonnie Henderson; treasurer, Irene Schmitz.

Miss Mabel Cook and Dr. June Cozine attended the executive committee meeting of the Missouri Home Economics Association in Kansas City, September 13.

Miss Louise Johnson, Rosetta Reed, and three Horace Mann students attended the Future Homemakers planning committee in Savannah, September 23.

Tri Sigs Organize Fight Against Polio

An informal but highly effective campaign to increase the scope of medical research in poliomyelitis has quietly gathered momentum during the past year, inspired by the memory of a silver-haired, five-year-old boy.

Among the sponsors of the campaign is Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, whose chapters have organized on a nation-wide basis to fight polio in the memory of the son of their national president, Mrs. Robertson Page.

Alpha Epsilon chapter, in a special meeting, contributed to the Robbie Page Memorial Fund. The contributions came from the girls individually and from a special fund in the treasury. It is the hope of every Tri Sigma that this fund will become ever larger through the years.

Mary Beth Marsh as president and Jo Ellen Wilson as social service chairman have conducted the drive for funds for Alpha Epsilon chapter.

Tri Sigmas Formally Initiate New Pledges

Eight pledges were formally initiated into Alpha Epsilon chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma, September 16, at the home of Dr. June Cozine.

Those initiated were Marela Dick, Marilyn Gilliland, Bonnie Henderson, Alma Murrell, Avis Murrell, Roselyn Richardson, Marlene Schlipers, and Betty Teaford.

Men Go Into Hiding As Sadie Hawkins Week Gets Under Way

By Carol Tudder

Bachelors beware! Monday, September 29, was declared the beginning of Sadie Hawkins' Week on the Northwest Missouri State College campus.

During this annually celebrated week the fellows can take it easy while the gals do all the asking for dates and paying of bills.

Fourth Year Celebrated
Come on, gals! Take advantage of your big opportunity by asking that fellow you've had your eye on for a date. Remember this chance comes but once a year!

This is the fourth year that the NWMSO students have celebrated this nationally known week. As many of you remember, Sadie Hawkins was the old maid out to get her man in Al Capp's comic strip, "Li'l Abner," and has since become an important figure during this week on our campus.

Crowning Featured
The climax of this gala week will be the Sadie Hawkins' Dance in the Lounge of the Union Building on Friday, October 3, sponsored by the Social Committee. The dance will start at eight o'clock; so be sure and dig out your costumes and get those dates!

Music will be divided in two sections. Folk dancing for the first half will be provided by Herschel Colbert, a post graduate transfer student from the University of Missouri. After the intermission program, featuring the crowning of Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner and other interesting numbers, Jack Moore and his band will provide the music for the remainder of the evening.

The Social Committee is composed of Tom Carver and Max Miller, co-chairmen; Carol Tudder and Evelyn Shaline, publicity; Don Corbin, program; Maxine DeShon and Mary Beth Marsh, decorations. The committee is under the direction of Mrs. Hattie Hechenauer.

Independents Invite Non-Greeks to Party

The Independent Club gave a party for all freshmen and non-Greeks in the Bearcat Den of the Student Union Building, Wednesday night, September 24.

Freshmen mixers, round dancing, and folk dances made up the evening's entertainment. The folk dances were directed by Herschel Colbert.

A short business meeting was held during which officers of the organization were introduced. Officers for the coming year are Joan Kowitz, president; Marilyn Litton, vice-president; Louise Nyvinger, secretary; Don Smith, treasurer; Thelma Buckley, reporter; Melva Helts, historian; Bernard O'Dell, parliamentary.

Dr. Irene Mueller and Miss Vida Dunbar were guests.

Three Delegates Attend Alpha Sig Anniversary Week

Jean Long, Mallerd Maune, Mary Jane Kurtz, and Mrs. Jane Johnson attended the golden anniversary convention of Alpha Sigma Alpha at Roanoke, Virginia, August 19-23.

One of the activities that took place during the convention was the hanging of the Phi Phi Chapter shield at the first business meeting by Jean Long. Jean also appeared in a choric drama entitled "Friendship is a Gift So Rare."

Mrs. Johnson gave the opening address which opened the business meetings. She also was a leader of a panel discussion at a workshop showing the cooperative spirit between the college and alumnae chapters.

Mrs. Wilma Watson Sharp, retiring national president from Independence honored the Missouri delegates with a breakfast. Mrs. Sharp installed the first officers of the local Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, May 11, 1952.

Bearcats Launch Conference Title Bid On Friday

Green and White Will Invade Rolla For Initial MIAA Test

Miners Feature Play of Quarterback Bullman; Six Other Letter Winners Spark Rolla Eleven

By DONNA LAWSON

Coached by Ryland Milner, the NWMSC Bearcats will be seeking revenge Friday night when they invade the enemy territory of the Rolla Miners, an MIAA foe, for their first conference game of the year. Last year Rolla staged a 30-14 victory over the 'Cats, and in '50, beat them to the tune of 14-0.

The Miners are powerhouses by Howard Bullman, quarterback, son of Rolla's Coach Dale Bullman. Bullman, a junior and two year letterman, completed nine out of eleven passes in the game against Maryville State last year.

William Jewell Cards Romp Over Bearcats, 21-0

The rampaging William Jewell Cardinals from Liberty rolled over the Bearcats, 21-0, in the Maryville stadium, Friday night.

Al Conway of North Kansas City, former West Point gridster, was probably the biggest factor in the Cardinal win. Conway rammed across two touchdowns in the first period and masterminded the drive down the field in the third quarter to set up Jim Happy's touchdown play.

Happy also came in for his share of the Cardinal glory as he kicked three extra points in addition to his third quarter goal.

The Bearcats made several threatening goal line stabs in the course of the game but could never quite hit the payoff. Twice in the third period the Green and White moved within sight of the goal but in each instance the powerful Cardinals thwarted their touchdown plans.

Jerry Cole, a sophomore, and Gil Obregon, a freshman, turned in well-played games for the Bearcats, as also did Ono Monachino and Don Black.

The Student Senate has chosen a group of seven cheerleaders to boost the Northwest Missouri State College fans to new heights. It is their job to produce the encouragement that may give the team the needed lift when all seems lost. However, the cheerleaders can not do it alone. They need the complete cooperation of the student body.

Girls Find Swimming Class 'Overcrowded'

Dolores Burch, freshman, felt somewhat bewildered during the first week of college when she discovered she was the only girl enrolled in the co-intermediate swimming class. Undaunted by the fact that many girls on the campus would have envied the position, Dolores speedily made a timid retreat and changed her schedule.

When the all-male class assembled again—yep, you guessed it, another girl was enrolled. It was Gloria Fulton, another green beanie wearer, who blushingly said it out if Dolores could be persuaded to change her schedule again.

Mrs. J. M. Gerlach, an alumna of the College, reviewed the musical play "The King and I" at the first fall meeting of the A. A. U. W. on September 11. Mrs. Gerlach, the former Betty Sealeman, was graduated from the College in 1930.

Bearcats Nip Fort Hays, 7-6, In Thrilling Defensive Duel

The Bearcats came up with a stone wall goal line defense twice in the final quarter to set down the Fort Hays Tigers, 7-6, in a hard fought game on the Maryville gridiron, September 19.

The visiting Kansas pushed over the first touchdown of the game in the initial period on Dick Lousch's charge. The highlight of the first period, as far as the Gold and Black were concerned, was Tony Schmidt's 40 yard pass to husky Bob Haws, which eventually culminated in the Fort Hays score.

With the Bearcat line sparking throughout the game, the Fort Hays eleven was stopped in each touchdown thrust after the opening quarter. Halfback Don Black was the principal ground gainer for the Bearcats, but it was Paul Tobin who ran over the touchdown to knot the score in the second frame. Ken Reynolds notched the extra point to give the Bearcats the edge and the game.

Commendable "M" Club has not quite finished their latest project... but... we are proud of the new scoreboard and know that it will be an aid to the patrons of football as well as another progressive development in our College.

Coach Milner's "big" problem of the year... pants for Wee Willie Steele... Milner says big boys are hard to find... we think, but Bill looked rather large in Friday's game.

Ono Monachino would like to have the luck at fishing that he does at football... The long fellow got a few bites in the M. U. game.

Jim Gillette was called out of football practice into a conference with the Marine Corps. A captain was sent to go over a few tactical problems with Sgt. Gillette.

Iowa gridsters are once again making the Bearcat Roster... Don Black, College Springs; Howard Davenport, Oakland; George Haws, Shenandoah; Gene Johnson, Atlantic; Dean Stuck and Marvin Triggs, Mt. Airy; Duane Hopkins, Red Oak; and Gerald Cole and Glavin Huggins, Bedford.

Other sections of the country represented, too... Bob Kariger, Gatun, Canal Zone; Ono Monachino and Loren Putney, Elba, New York; George Coulter, Stockton, California...

Fourteen freshmen listed on official roster... Might be indicative of the future of the Bearcats... Nine seniors listed... A couple of new transfers... Jim Danaher and Garold Walker...

Don "Pete" Peterson, new head of the Athletic department... Dale Kessinger, new head basketball coach...

In the thick of the football season several Bearcats are sharpening up their basket eyes in spare moments... Sounds encouraging for Bearcat cage fans...

Back to the gridiron... George Coulter and Paul Tobin are co-captains of '52 squad...

This year marks sixteenth anniversary for Ryland Milner as Bearcat football mentor... has one of the outstanding won-lost records in the MIAA conference...

George Nathan has edited the 1952 football brochure... good source book for press and radio...

Six home games scheduled against three away... excellent opportunity for local Bearcat fans to back the Green and White...

Someone really should make a survey on the number of coaches produced by Maryville... Ought to be a large figure... Some of the best, too...

Only four married men on the Bearcat roster?... The Marine Corps expects to pick up a lot of Bearcats when they end their college careers... A chance for some service ball, maybe...

Japan Is New Station For Clerk-Typist Grad

The Northwest Missourian office recently received a letter from A3/c John Clements, a graduate of the Air Force training program which was on the campus last year.

Four men from Group 25 and Group 30 are stationed at an airfield on the island of Kyushu in southern Japan. The nearest town to the base is Fukuoka, the largest city on the island.

Scenic places are not lacking in the vicinity, according to Clements. Hot springs are found in about an hour's drive from the base and the Riviera of Japan is just across the bay.

Farmers in Japan utilize every inch of space that they can. A3/c Clements thinks that the American farmer could learn much from the Japanese about working land.

His address is as follows: John P. Clements A3/c AF11227195, HQ & HQ SQ, 437th AB GP, APO 963, 7th PM San Francisco, Calif.
